

WE'RE HIRING

Senior Special Project Manager

Regina, Saskatchewan; Various FCC offices may be considered

Fixed term 18 months

Closing Date: August 10, 2022

Advanced corporate strategy and project management experience needed

Working closely with senior leaders, external consultants and the FCC Business Advisory team, you'll focus on both long-term vision and short-term impact.

Use your advanced project management skills to lead the continuous improvement of FCC's advisory program, including improving systems, establishing processes and launching new customer offerings. In addition to maturing the current offering, you'll look ahead 5-10 years, leading the process of vision setting and long-term strategy development with your strong administration ability, facilitation and communication skills. Bilingualism is an asset.

What you'll do

- Manage complex corporate-level, cross-divisional projects or identified strategic initiatives
- Make strategic, technical, or tactical recommendations to senior leaders
- Using acquired knowledge, subject matter expertise and/or your unique skill set, fulfill responsibilities pertaining to the project

What we're looking for

- Strategic thinker comfortable making presentations to senior leaders
- Confident communicator able to articulate complex ideas for a variety of audiences
- Creative problem-solver who can think outside the box
- Multi-tasker with extensive analytical ability
- Proven leader who wants to help others succeed

What you'll need

- A bachelor's degree in business administration or commerce and at least six years of experience (or an equivalent combination of education and experience); project management certificate is an asset
- Proven project management experience
- Experience building business cases, presentations and strategy documents
- Expertise in analysis, industry best practices and research
- Extensive knowledge of project's subject matter
